

Lamar University invites applications and nominations for the position of Dean of the College of Engineering, to take office during the summer of 2019 or soon thereafter. The ideal candidate will combine exemplary academic achievements in engineering, significant professional experience, and strategic leadership ability.

Lamar University, a comprehensive senior public university, is among the fastest growing Texas colleges and universities and a member of The Texas State University System. A Carnegie classified doctoral granting institution, Lamar has an enrollment of more than 15,000 (2/3 undergraduate and 1/3 graduate students) and offers 96 undergraduate, 51 master's, and 8 doctoral degree programs. In addition, Lamar provides distance education and public service programs to citizens of the region, state and beyond.

Lamar's campus in Beaumont in southeast Texas, about 90 miles east of Houston, places the College of Engineering in a particularly privileged location. There is a strong industry base in close proximity and a dedicated alumni base employed in many of these industries, making for excellent job placement, co-op and internship opportunities for students.

The College of Engineering offers six undergraduate degree, six graduate degree, and two doctoral programs in its five academic departments in chemical, civil and environmental, electrical, industrial, and mechanical engineering. All undergraduate engineering programs are accredited by ABET. The College is host to four Research Centers with projects funded by the State of Texas.

The Dean of the College of Engineering is the academic and administrative leader and the College's principal advocate. Desired qualifications include, in part, an earned doctorate from an accredited institution in engineering; accomplishments commensurate with an appointment as a tenured faculty member within the College; administrative experience as a dean, associate dean, department chair, or comparable position; experience in developing relationships with industries, alumni, and funding agencies; a track record of effective strategic planning, policy development and budget oversight; and collegial collaboration as a member of an academic administrative team. For a full list of qualifications and a leadership agenda, see the full position profile at <https://academic-search.com/sites/default/files/LamarDeanProfile.pdf>.

NOMINATIONS AND INQUIRIES

To apply, a candidate should prepare a letter of interest addressing the issues and desired qualifications outlined in the profile. Include also a current, long-form resume and the names, phone numbers, and email addresses of at least five references and the candidate's relationship to each reference. References will be called at a later stage and only with the candidate's foreknowledge.

By University policy and search committee affirmation, all information from and about candidates will be kept in strict confidence in perpetuity. For full consideration by the search committee, applications should be submitted by April 8, 2019. Additional information about the institution can be found at www.lamar.edu.

As instructed in the full profile, applicants should send materials as an e-mail attachment in Microsoft Word format to: Lamardean@academic-search.com. The search is being assisted by Academic Search, Inc. Senior Consultant Maya Ranchod Kirkhope (mrk@academic-search.com and 703 -380-9195).