

Salt Lake Community College

DEAN OF HEALTH SCIENCES

Salt Lake Community College invites nominations and applications for the position of Dean of Health Sciences. Salt Lake Community College (SLCC) is now Utah's largest two-year institution and only comprehensive community college. As a top 12 college nationally for associate degrees awarded, SLCC offers more than 120 programs of study at multiple sites, full campuses and online. The new Dean of Health Sciences will join an outstanding leadership team and have the opportunity to work with dynamic, innovative leaders committed to student access, inclusion and completion.

The School of Health Sciences at Salt Lake Community College is committed to providing quality education in nursing and allied health fields, ensuring each graduate is ready to enter a healthcare profession. Experienced and clinically-prepared faculty, along with hands-on experience in a variety of clinical settings, allow students to become skilled in the science of healing and art of compassion and ready to serve their community. There are 37 full time faculty and 43 adjunct faculty at the School. Student enrollment for 2017/18 is 740 students in the 9 programs.

In order to lead the faculty and staff in the School of Health Sciences, the selected candidate is required to be an accomplished practitioner with 3-5 years of college teaching experience. The candidate will be a visionary leader with experience in creating and sustaining community partnerships, preferably in the medical field and administrative experience that evidences effectiveness in team building and empowerment of others. She/he should have excellent written and oral communication skills, demonstrated skill at change management and good listening skills. Candidates must also have a strong record of budget management, fund-raising and advocacy. This is an employment at will position.

The successful candidate must have a terminal degree or be on a defined path to receive the degree within one year of appointment. Preferably in a health sciences-related field in an area taught in the School of Health Sciences. She/he will also have a deep appreciation of the community college mission and its importance to the community. The candidate will be able to demonstrate a commitment to diversity and a record of providing access to opportunity. The candidate will be a team player, dedicated to providing the resources, guidance and support for a talented and committed faculty and staff.

Full information about this opportunity including application instructions can be viewed by going to www.Academic-Search.com and clicking on the "Current Searches" tab at the top of that home page.

The position will remain open until filled. If you wish to have a confidential discussion regarding this position, you may contact Senior Consultants, Shirley Robinson Pippins srp@academic-search.com or Thomas Shandley tcs@academic-search.com.

Academic Search, Inc. has been retained to assist Salt Lake Community College with this search. Applications and nominations should be sent to: SLCCDeanHealth@academic-search.com.

The College provides equal educational opportunities to all students and equal employment opportunities to all employees and applicants for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, age, disability, marital status, status as a veteran, or any other protected status under federal, state or local laws. This policy applies to all terms and conditions of enrollment and employment.

